What is battery SoC & Soh?

Battery SOC and SOH Explained -State of Charge &Healthfor Lithium Batteries In the battery industry,two terms are often mentioned: SOC (State of Charge) and SOH (State of Health). They are critical parameters in a Battery Management System (BMS) and play an important role in evaluating battery usage and lifespan.

What does Soh mean in a lithium ion battery?

Lithium-ion batteries have become the backbone of modern energy solutions,powering electric vehicles,renewable energy storage systems,and countless electronic devices. To ensure safe and reliable performance,monitoring the SOH in Battery --which stands for State of Health--has become an essential practice.

What is Soh of a battery?

It describes the storage capacityof the battery in the current state,that is,the ratio of the available capacity of the battery in the current state to the available capacity of the battery in the outgoing state,and the unit is the percentage (%). Theoretically,the SOH of the battery is 100% when it leaves the factory.

What is the unit of Soh?

The unit of SoH is percent(100% = the battery's conditions match the battery's specifications). For example,when the capacity of a new battery is same as the nominal capacity as per the battery specification,it is said to be in optimal health (SoH = 100%).

To ensure safe and reliable performance, monitoring the SOH in Battery --which stands for State of Health--has become an essential practice. Evaluating this parameter helps predict a ...
